

ELAHO Publishing Corporation

Box 370, Squamish, BC Canada V0N 3G0

Phone: (604) 892-9797

Fax: (604) 892-3609

Email: stone@elaho.ca

The Climbers Guide to Squamish

ISBN 09682472-1-0

444 pages

March 2001

Kevin McLane

Suggested Retail $34.00

Squamish is one of the world's great granite rock climbing centres and this is the definitive guide to 1400 climbs and over 1,500 pitches of climbing. Routes range from small crags in the forest, to seacliffs, sport climbs, sub-alpine rockclimbs, big aid walls and all the legendary classic cracks and long freeclimbs on the Squamish Chief. This is the 1999 edition, revised in March 2001 to include all the new climbs to that date.

The Squamish Guide

A major new edition of the Squamish Guide will be going to press late 2004.

The Bugaboos

One of the World's Great Alpine Rockclimbing Centres

360 pages

July 2003

Chris Atkinson and Marc Piche

Suggested Retail $36.95

This is the first truly definitive and first-ever Canadian guide to the Bugaboo Spires and the Vowell Group.

The Bugaboos has 360 pages and includes over 200 outstanding images, photo-topos, line-topos and maps, and 267 climbs. This is one of the most sought-after releases in many years.

Revelstoke Rock

ISBN 09733035-2-2

132 pages

June 2004

Ruedi Beglinger

Suggested Retail $22.95

This is the guide to 199 fine quartzite rockclimbs in the Revelstoke area of British Columbia. Most climbs are sport routes, centred on the main climbing area of Begbie Bluffs, with several other good climbing centres, including the "best seacliff climbing" in western Canada at Waterworld. The guide is an essential addition to any climbers library as the climbs are close to the Trans Canada Highway.

Skaha Rockclimbs

ISBN 09682472-9-6

252 pages

June 2003

Howie Richardson

Suggested Retail $32.95

This is the brand-new edition of the guide to the sunny crags of Skaha, near Penticton in the Okanagan Valley of south-central British Columbia. Climbs cover the full range of sport and gear routes with many beginner crags. Skaha is the second most popular climbing centre in British Columbia, and with its reputation for dry sunny weather and fine sport routes, is a fine alternative to Squamish.

The Waddington Guide

Alpine Climbs in one of the World's Great Ranges

ISBN 09682472-5-3

468 pages

June 2003

Don Serl

Suggested Retail $44.95

This is the major new guidebook to the legendary Waddington Range in the heart of the Coast Mountains of BC. This entire range of peaks and climbs is described as never before, essentially for the first time in this new guide, the first since 1969. The climbs range from easy short routes to beautiful summits on superb granite, to some of the biggest and hardest routes in North America on the 1600m south faces of Tiedmann, Asperity and Combatant. All of the climbs on Waddington itself are covered in detail. Over 200 pages of photo-topos and panoramas.

The Waddington Map

June 2003

Summit Series -- Timberline Forest Consultants

65cm x 100cm

Suggested Retail $19.95

The Waddington Map is a panelled fold-up map of standard size that covers the central guidebook region, the area of interest to at least 75% of range visitors. It is 1:25,000, in four-colour and stunning well done. It is tailored for climbers and skiers, and is an essential tool for any visitor to the Waddington area.

Alpine Select

Climbs in Southwest British Columbia & Northern Washington

ISBN 09682472-7-X

360 pages

June 2001

Kevin McLane

Suggested Retail $34.00

The outstanding guide to the 158 best alpine climbs in southwestern British Columbia and northern Washington. Loaded with over 350 photos and topos, it sets a new standard of presentation for alpine guidebooks. The climbs range from Gold Bridge and the upper Lillooet River Valley in the north to Mount Baker and Mount Shuksan in the south and cover all types from snow and ice to steep rock and full-on mountaineering climbs.

Selkirks South

ISBN 09682472-4-5

384 pages

July 2001

David P. Jones

Suggested Retail $39.95

The essential guide to over 500 alpine climbs in the vast southern half of the Selkirk Mountain Range in eastern British Columbia. Climbs listed extend from the Trans Canada Highway to the edge of the Bugaboos.

Author David P. Jones is the leading authority on the range and has detailed the climbs, the mountain environment and more than a century of activity in this masterly guidebook.

Selkirks North

ISBN 09733035-0-6

456 pages

June 2004

David P. Jones

Suggested Retail $39.95

This is the companion volume to the award-winning Selkirks South guide, covering close to 700 alpine routes in the northern half of the vast Selkirk Range of British Columbia. The guide describes superb routes on some of the highest and most dramatic summits in Canada, including the magnificent granite faces and high ridges of the Adamants, the Gothics and Sir Sandford, and alpine rockclimbs on the quartzite of the north side of Rogers Pass.

Whistler Rockclimbs

ISBN 09682472-2-9

168 pages

June 2000

Kevin McLane

Suggested Retail $18.95

This is the 'Squamish North' guidebook, an eclectic and comprehensive guide to all the climbs, sport, gear, long and short, stretched along 110 kilometres of Highway 99 from Squamish, through Whistler and Pemberton, right up to the edge of the dry BC Interior. It includes the familiar playgrounds of Chek and Rogues Gallery, and covers such variety as basalt column sport routes, the multi-pitch climbs of Green River Bastion, and the sunny crags of Calcheak.

Central BC Rock: The Rockclimbers Guide to Central British Columbia

ISBN 09696201-6-0

264 pages

July 1996

Lyle Knight

Suggested Retail $25.95

This is the essential guide to rockclimbing in the vast central region of British Columbia. From Bella Coola to Revelstoke, over 450 climbs are listed: full-day climbs at Marble Canyon and Yak Peak to modern sport routes at Revelstoke, Kamloops and Kelowna.

Author Lyle Knight, a native of central BC has also compiled the first history of climbing activity in central BC, spanning five decades.

The Climbers Guide to Powell River

ISBN none

72 pages

April 2002

Authored and published by Chris Armstrong.

Distributed by Elaho Publishing

Suggested Retail $15.95

This great little book is the first definitive guide to hottest new Coastal climbing area, the Powell River region on the Sunshine Coast of British Columbia, three hours north of Vancouver. It covers 160 climbs, ranging from limestone sport climbs and seashore bouldering to the centrepiece of the region, the big wall granite rockclimbs of the Eldred Valley, ranging up to 900 metres high.

Squamish The Shining Valley

ISBN 09682472-6-1

96 pages, colour.

December 2000

Kevin McLane

Suggested retail $29.95

This is the second edition of the beautiful full-size coffee-table book about Squamish, the 'Outdoor Recreation Capital of Canada', loaded with many outstanding photographs of the region; from the high alpine to the seashore and people at work and play. Hiking, climbing, mountainbiking and just hanging around.

The book includes the only published history of Squamish, an extensive 32 page treatment with many rare old images of Squamish past and a 26,000 word story describing the development of the region from the landscape of pre-ice age times, to the evolution of the landscape as we know it today and of all the people who have to the present. It is the perfect gift from Squamish, and has been sent to all corners of the world.